Town Talk

. . . Being a Column of Chatter About People You Know . . .

By DOROTHY M. OGDEN

Well, Boroites still have a chance to do some victory gardening this year if they get in touch with Chestnut Avenue's Mrs. Bill Sargent. She was telling me that there are still a few of the 35'x50' plots left down on the Shortridge tract; so give her a ring at Narberth 3789-J if you want one. Incidentally, she is anxious to see to it that recently returned service men get a chance to wield a few garden tools. So line up, veterans if you want to garden this Summer.

* * *

Postmaster Joe Kelley was telling me that Narberth's first postmaster was a woman named Mrs. W. G. Smick who established the office on May 27, 1886! In 1892 Eliza Ketcham took it over, followed by Elizabeth H. Ketcham in 1905. Records show that after 1905 there were five men who operated the post office. George McCauslin took over in 1906, followed by Joe Mollineaux, Jr., in 1910, Edward S. Haws in 1913, Fred Patten in 1922 and J. Bertram Nesper in 1926. Mr. Kelley has been there since 1935. Quite an array of prominent Boroite family names, isn't it? Du-u-no? that the Narberth post office does a volume of money business second only to the bank?

There's a worthwhile cause roundabout the Boro, to which I know you'll want to contribute when you hear the facts. Howard Hatfield (he's Penn Valley jeweler) was tell me that the Narberth Boy's Club baseball team needs about $200. They did right well last year, all but winning the championship, and they need money for balls, bats and umpires. He is the athletic director of the outfit. Do give them a little financial backing because they need it and deserve it.

I heard that when Chestnut Avenue's Bob Yborra went over to register his honorable discharge with his draft board, the board must have gotten a little mixed up because they started to register him as a draftee all over again. 'Twas reliably reported that Bob told them, in a few well-chosen words, that he had no such ideas of signing up again, period. Can't say that I blame him, what with 37 months active service with the Navy.

65% of Quota In Red Cross Reports

Penn Valley District Still in Lead With 105% Collections

With 10 days remaining in the 1946 Red Cross Fund drive on the Main Line, district leaders on Tuesday reported 65 per cent of their $265,000 goal collected.

Total collections to date represent an increase of 32 per cent over last week's report which listed only one-third of the goal received by the Main Line Branch.

Still in first place among the 23 local districts and the only area to surpass its quota is District 3, Penn Valley, headed by Mrs. J. T. Little, with 105 per cent.

Mrs. J. Paul Crawford of Old Gulph Rd., Rosemont, colonel in District 2, Rosemont, reported 91 per cent collected. Mrs. Robert Coleman, District No. 16, 120 Linwood Avenue, Ardmore, 90.2 per cent. Four other sections are now above the 80 per cent mark. They are:

District 11, Mrs. Clifford E. Frishmuth, 87.3 per cent; District 9, Mrs. S. Hulme Brown of 20 Narbrook Park, Narberth, 83.3 per cent; District 8, Mrs. Davis M. Hunt, 619 Righters Mill Rd., Narberth, 82.4 per cent; District 7, Mrs. Richard Grosholz, 112 School House Lane, Ardmore, 81 per cent. Closely following the 80 per cent bracket is District 14, Mrs. Drew Arend, Grenox Rd., Wynnewood, 77.7 per cent.

The 1946 goal of $265,000 is a substantial drop from the 1945 goal of $350,000 which was more than realized. In order to maintain the 18 departments out of the 19 which were active in wartime, the present day quota must be rearhed on the Main Line in the next ten days, according to Mrs. Charles E. Kenworthy, associate chairman of the campaign.

Arrest 6 to 10 P. M. Burglar Robbed Lower Merion Homes

For the past year, Jerry Kulp, 25, and Jacqueline Kerr, 24, both of Pottstown, have been systematically commuting from Pottstown and robbing homes in suburban Philadelphia.

According to a story they told Philadelphia police, they would select a home, watch it carefully, get to know the routine of the occupants and then burgalize it when they were absent.

On March 8, their luck wore out. While robbing a Philadelphia A & P chain store, they were caught in the act by police.

A good deal of their loot was recovered in Pottstown and displayed at the 32nd and Woodland Ave. police station. Burglary victims were invited to appear and identify stolen articles, which included clothing, fur coats, jewelry and radios.

It was discovered that Kulp was a long sought burglar in Haverford and Lower Merion townships as well as other suburban townships.

Known as the six to ten P. M. burglar, he always picked on prosperous-looking homes.

According to Haverford Township police, Kulp not only used a gun stolen from a Haverford Township home for the Philadelphia hold up, but he was wearing the pants to a suit of clothes stolen from another township resident.

According to police Kulp entered the following homes in Haverford Township:

On March 23, 1945, the home of Garfield List, 559 Brookline Boulevard, Penfield. Here he took two revolvers, one of which

Use of Playground Solves Part Of Bryn Mawr Parking Problem

Lower Merion Township commissioners went a long ways in solving Bryn Mawr's business commercial parking problems Wednesday night when they announced that one half of the town's central playground would be used as a parking lot.

The playground area, used for small children and as a park, is bounded by Lancaster Ave., Morris Rd., Bryn Mawr Ave. and in the rear by property of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

It will provide a parking lot at the Eastern end of the town for 100 cars.

In order to convert one half of the playground into a parking area the Township had to obtain a release from the Pennsylvania Railroad. When the land was bought from the railroad a number of years ago a restriction was written into the deed that it would never be used for parking.

Township officials said yesterday they had not considered asking the railroad to waive the deed restriction against parking for the remainder of the plot.

Walter E. Rosengartern, township engineer, would not say that use of the plot for parking would solve Bryn Mawr's parking problems. In addition, he said, another plot of ground was needed for the off-the-street parking at the Eastern end of town.

"Opening of this parking lot," he did say, "will go a long ways to relieving the parking needs at the Eastern end of town."

It will cost the Township $5,500 to put the playground plot in shape for parking cars. They will construct two black-top approaches for cars to drive in on the Western side, opposite the Bryn Mawr Post Office on the Bryn Mawr Ave. side, and for cars to leave on the West side onto Morris Rd. Work on the parking lot will be started this Summer.

As compared to other Main Line business centers Bryn Mawr is the first town to make a sizable dent in its post war parking and traffic problems.

Although township officials contend they are unable to purchase land for off-the-street parking the use of the Bryn Mawr playground for this purpose will put them in the position of providing parking relief for Bryn Mawr merchants.

The plan to use the playground for off-the-street parking arose in the Township's Planning Commission and had the approval of Commissioners and the Bryn Mawr Business Association.

State Unrivaled In Air Program Says Chalfant, Council Speaker

Pennsylvania, with its large and widely distributed population, its interesting varieties of terrain and weather, its public awareness of the potentialities of a sound aeronautical program and its financial assistance to airport building, is seen by Floyd Chalfant, State Secretary of Commerce, as a State with ideal advantages. Chalfant is also head of the Pennsylvania Aeronautical Commission.

"In the matter of aeronautics the State came of age in 1943 with the provision for by legislation and the appointment of the first Aeronautics Commission in June of that year," Chalfant told members of the Lower Merion-Narberth Council of Republican Women Tuesday afternoon at the Ashbridge House, Rosemont.

"Almost overnight," he pointed out, "Pennsylvania stepped into front position among the states with its aeronautics program. From then until now it has had no close rivals. The legislature in the session of 1945 recognized the need and the work of the Commission when it appropriated the sum of $2,750,000 for an airports building program on a matching basis.

"In Pennsylvania we have learned to measured the popularity of the state by the number of persons visiting within its borders, as well as the number of persons talking favorably about its advantages. So we have learned to measure the record of aeronautics by the number of airports we have in the State and by the interest manifested in flying.

"Pennsylvania has 46 private airfields, 38 Class 1N, 79 Class 1,

YMCA Leader Says 90% Of Juvenile Court Cases Come From Disrupted Home Life

Speaker Cites "The Rights of Children"; Nominating Committee Is Announced; Richard Kehnan Presides

An effective youth program, in which the emphasis is on the need for home cooperation first, was discussed by Emery Nelson, executive secretary of the Chester YMCA, at the Monday night meeting of the Narberth Parent Teacher Association.

Nelson said that 90 per cent of 9,000 children he had witnessed parading before judges of juvenile courts came from homes which were disrupted by divorce or other reasons.

"Parents should establish a firm home relationship on which children can depend," declared Nelson.

He cited what he termed "the rights of youth."

"These rights included," he said, "the right to be well born, to health, to education, to a job, to play, to a satisfactory spiritual experience and to the opportunity to build a happy home."

Richard Lehman, President of the PTA, presided at the session, with the Rev. Cletus A. Senft, pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, pronouncing the invocation.

A program of music was presented by a chorus of 50 voices under Frances Fricke's direction.

A nominating committee named to draw up a slate for April elections includes Mrs. William Hoeschle, chairman; Mrs. Lowell Heller, Mrs. Karl Williams, Samuel Barclay and William Clear.

Army Air Captain's Death Accidental

30-Year-Old Flying Tiger Held Cross And Air Medal

A 30-year-old former pilot of the famous Flying Tiger Group was found dead of exhaust fumes in the Bryn Mawr garage of his home Tuesday morning. He had apparently made some minor adjustments to the motor of his car when he was overcome.

He was Donald S. Brookfield, of 616 Pembroke Rd., Bryn Mawr, a discharged Army captain who held the Distinguished Flying Cross and Air Medal.

Brookfield's body was discovered by his mother, Mrs. Helen Wetter, at 7.30 A. M., after she noticed a light burning in the garage.

After opening the garage doors —which were closed tightly—she discovered her son's body in the front seat of the automobile. He was slumped over the steering wheel. His right hand was on the ignition switch. The left car door was open. A screw driver was found near his left foot.

Mrs. Wetter notified the Lower Merion Township Police and Detectives Joseph Coddington and Joseph Kelly arrived on the scene shortly afterward. They summoned Dr. James Shoemaker,

Struck Twice By Police Bullets, Man Bit Cop Who Nabbed Him

Shouts and shooting shattered the suburban quiet of Wiltshire Rd. in Penn Wynne last Saturday night and brought the residents running to the street.

When it was all over, a Lower Merion policeman was bruised and bitten, but he had his man.

The story started when Patrolman Francis Fyfe, on special plain clothes duty, saw a man crossing the yard of the W. E. Quillman home at 19 Wiltshire Rd. While Fyfe watched, the man went up to the unoccupied house and started to fumble with a dining room window.

Fyfe promptly arrested him and they started for a nearby house, where Fyfe planned to call headquarters for a patrol wagon.

As they walked, the would-be burglar twisted out of Fyfe's grasp and lit out across country.

Fyfe gave chase, firing two shots from his pistol, and caught up with his quarry on Cope's Lane a block away. There they wrestled and Fyfe tried to put hand-cuffs on the man, but again he broke away. Fyfe fired three more shots and the fugitive dropped in the front yard of a house on Green Hill Lane.

Two of Fyfe's shots had found their mark, but the burglar wasn't ready to give up yet. He wrestled with the policeman, finally sinking his teeth in the latter's cheek and hanging on with a bulldog grip until Fyfe struck him with his blackjack.

Three men, residents of the neighborhood, helped hold the burglar until the arrival of a police car with Detectives Hugh Waters

The report also stated that new work in the church included a Missionary Parish aboard, and plans for a new educational and recreational building. The old parsonage has been made into the Church house and office since the pastor moved to his new home at 226 Essex Ave., Narberth.

Next Sunday morning there will be a Communion Breakfast at 8 A. M. at the Church House for the teachers of the Bible School inaugurating a Week of Evangelism. Teachers and officials will visit a list of prospects for membership on Sunday and during next week.

Petition Seeks Enlargement Of West Ardmore Voting District

A petition seeking to enlarge the West Ardmore election district of Lower Merion Township by incorporating in it portions of the Haverford and North Ardmore No. 1 districts was presented to the Montgomery County Court on Monday.

Signed by 77 electors from the three election districts, the petition has been referred to the Montgomery County Board of Elections for investigation and recommendation. Following this, a public hearing will be conducted by the Court and advertised by notices posted in the respective districts. The decision of the Court will be made after the hearing.

It is proposed in the petition that that portion of the North Ardmore No. 1 district, bounded on the North by the Southern boundry of the Pennsylvania Railroad right-of-way, on the East by Anderson Avenue, on the South by the North side of Lancaster Pike and on the West by a part of the present Western boundry of the North Ardmore No. 1 district, be made a part of the West Ardmore election district.

It is also proposed that that part of the Haverford election district bounded on the West by Haverford Station Road, on the North by the Southern boundary of the Pennsylvania Railroad right-of-way, on the East by a part of the present Eastern boundary of the Haverford district and on the South by the North side of Lancaster Pike be added to the West Ardmore district.

The petition maintains that these portions of North Ardmore No. 1 and Haverford districts are geographicaly more properly a part of the West Ardmore district than of either of the districts to which they now belong; that it would be much more convenient for electors in those portions of the North Ardmore No. 1 and Haverford districts to vote at the West Ardmore polling place insofar as distance, parking facilities and the size of the polling place is concerned.

The number of electors in that part of the Haverford district concerned is 36. In the North Ardmore No. 1 district the number affected is 142.

The polling place for the West Ardmore district is the Masonic Hall at Ardmore and W. Athens Aves. Haverford voters cast their ballots in a building at the Northwest corner of W. Lancaster Ave. and Old Lancaster Rd. The North Ardmore No. 1 district polls is at the Lower Merion Township Building, 75 E. Lancaster Ave., Ardmore.

If approved by the Court, the change will be effective at the Primary election on May 21.

Attacks Truman At Pepper Dinner

Mo. Congressman Speaker at Dinner Held in Upper Darby

Party success must be made secondary to National program for reconstruction of America, Congressman Walter C. Plosser, Rep., Missouri, told nearly 500 Delaware County Republicans Monday night.

He spoke at the testimonial dinner to County Controller Clarence T. Pepper in the Real Estate Board Building, Upper Darby.

Political leaders and public officials of Haverford Township attended the dinner.

In an attack on the Truman Administration the congressman declared that our foreign policy has been so weak it has precipitated a crisis.

Plossner also charged that:

President Truman has no loyal followers and confusion is the dominant note of administration policy or lack of policy; that the administration sought to add 125,000 political workers to the already swollen federal payroll and was willing to wreck our first line of defense, the Navy, to do so, and that the President has no hope of putting through his program and the Republican party is the nation's only hope for the future.

In concluding his talk Plossner stated,

"The administration is torn by greed, avarice and a lust for power. About the President are a score of rival factional groups led by Wallace Snyder, Bowles and others willing to cut his political throat to seize power. No one in Washington can say what the administration policy will be tomorrow or next year. It changes daily and no one can tell what tomorrow will bring.

Community House One Of Nine Objectives Of New Civic Group

Construction of a community house with adequate facilities for all youth activities is envisioned by the Gladwyne Civic Association as one of its objectives.

The recommendation, arising in the Civic Association's youth activities committee, is part of a five-page quarterly report of the organization. Out of 470 householders in Gladwyne, the Association now has 176 members.

Other objectives of the organization include:

1. The prevention of a high speed, through-highway across Gladwyne.

2. Continued objection to Lower Merion Township's proposal to establish a minimum 50-foot right-of-way for all roads.

3. Utilization of the Gladwyne Public School auditorium and playground for organized sports for adults and young people.

4. Erection of sign posts so people can find their way to Gladwyne.

5. Erection of shelters at terminals of the Gladwyne bus line in Gladwyne and Ardmore.

6. Compilation of historical data about Gladwyne.

7. Adequate post office facilities.

8. A study of sewer facilities, garbage removal, rodent and mosquito control, insecticides and the purity of water in Mill Creek swimming pools.

John Russell, Jr., president of the Association, who made the report, declared:

"Aside from a restricted number of special social and religious groups which work with some children, there is nothing in Gladwyne which affords the young people a common means of association, entertainment and interest.

"The ideal situation, of course, would be a community house with adequate facilities to meet such a need. This, however, will require careful consideration, planning and the interesting of financial assistance either from public or private sources.

"In the meantime the committee has been actively engaged in a study of all the youth activities in the community, religious, social or other wise; who the sponsors are, where the meetings are held and how often, what age groups are covered by these activities and, in general, what Gladwyne offers throughout the year to keep the young people engaged in worthwhile associations."

Referring to the future of Gladwyne, Russell said:

"Both old and new members of the Gladwyne district have a real pride in this community. Situated as it is, off the large arteries of travel, and yet readily accessible to them, it is a section uniquie in historical background and residential appeal. Let us go forward in broadening the appeal of its community life. To do that we need the interest, suggestions and support of all residents."

Officers of the Association, in addition to Russell are Guy L. Cornman, George B. Culbertson, and Granville Worrell, 2nd., vice presidents; Frederick B. Griffin, Jr., secretary; C. Wanton Balis, Jr., treasurer.

Lower Merion police surgeon, who pronounced him dead. Shoemaker said that Brookfield had been dead for more than six hours.

Detectives stated Brookfield had apparently driven into the garage and then decided to make some minor adjustments to his car. They added that the position in which his body was found indicated he had attempted to turn off the ignition switch after being overcome by the exhaust fumes.

Mrs. Wetter told police that her son was in "perfectly good health and spirits" when he left for work on Monday morning. She added that he had not come home for dinner that night.

Coroner Winslow J. Rushong stated that the death would be listed as accidental and due to carbon-monoxide poisoning.

Brookfield, who was unmarried, was employed as a chemical engineer at Sun Oil Company, Philadelphia. He enlisted in the Air Corps in April, 1941, and was discharged, a captain, in March, 1945. He was wounded twice in combat flights.

Dr. Max Lerner gave quite a lecture on Monday nite at the YMHA, in town. It was a crowded auditorium and he traced Russo-American relations from a way back. He showed what could be expected from Russia, UNO and any number of other developments which may take place due the advent to the atomic bomb. Try to get in to the rest of his lectures, if you missed that one. They will take place the next three Monday nites, all to be held at the YMHA, at 8.30.

Dallas Scott has been suggesting that the Boro Business Council throw another dinner, like the one Morris Chios was talking about which Cynwyd Businessmen put on at the Bala Inn. Howard Cotter, and Morris, please take note, 'cause it would be such fun to have another party like the one we had a couple of months ago.

Potential voters—if you didn't get a chance to register down at the Boro Hall on Wednesday, the 13th, you can do it next Thursday, the 21st. The Boro Hall will be open next Thursday from 2 P. M. till 9 P. M. to register, or you'll be caught in the coming elections unable to vote.

Sorry to hear Anne Phillips' mother has been sick. Hope she is coming along now. Anne, y'know is manager of Narberth Theater.

Guess you knew that the Women's Community Club had themselves quite a sale over at club headquarters on Tuesday afternoon. Members contributed tremendously to the food fair, which raised a goodly sum to help the welfare agencies roundabout the Boro and does lots of good through the club's own agencies. The members of that club simply astounded me with all the good work they do throughout the community.

'Twas nice to meet up with Dr. Morris Katz, one of Narberth's leading dentists on Saturday nite. He was visiting with my friend "Doc Schaeter," over at the Narberth Pharmacy. By the way, du-u-no? that 52 Week Club, whose headquarters is situated at "Doc's", has almost been disbanded by the departure of Sam Ellis Wright and Bob Graham? Seems Sam Ellis has gone "on" work for Lent, and Bob is back at his hammer throwing up in Villanova. "Boots" Peters told me that Bob has already worn out one hammer. O. K. boys, your inning should be upcoming.

* * *

Met Bob Cameron and his attractive wife at a recent shindig. He's chairman of the Boro Council's parking committee, and he was telling me that the parking problem is quite something. It also seems that he checks up on my three columns each week. Now is that nice, Bob, I ask you!

Mrs. Dick Bergstresser was spotted walking the new baby on Chestnut Ave. last Tuesday afternoon.

SEEN AROUND TOWN . . . Fischer's had quite a checker game going on the other nite . . . Mrs. Dorothy Malloy was looking right purty t'other afternoon . . . Congratulations to Boro Veterans who voted for that whiperdoo of a Memorial Building . . . Understand Kathlene is on a short Winter vacation . . . Charlie Girvin was policing that Station Circle no-parking territory last week, which may make it easier for those who are already in the Circle, but it surely does make it hard to find a place to park when you just want to pop in and out of a store right fast . . . Spring seemed rather hard to find this week, but probably next week, the flowers will be in full bloom . . . Mrs. Ben Yowell is decorating Shea's drugstore by helping out behind the cashier's counter from time to time. She's as pretty now as the day she moved to the Boro . . .

Many thanks for your letters and phone calls. Please keep them coming, and I'll see you here next week, same time, same place. 'Bye now.

12 Class 2, four Class 3, three Class 4 with two of those being possibly typed as Class 5, the largest, and 13 seaplane bases. From the interest displayed it is going to have a lot more, regardless of whether or not Federal help—as much discussed—is going to be available to municipalities."

Pointing to some of the unusual advantages of the State for the development and expansion of air traffic, Chalfant said:

"Pennsylvania, Keystone of the industrial life of the Nation, is unique among the 48 States with regard to the population and distribution of population. Second in the Nation in total population, it ranks first in the number of unincorporated communities and second in rural population. The diffusion of population, caused primarily by mountainous terrain and the location of natural resources, provides an ideal location for the development and expansion of all descriptions of air traffic. The Post Office Department took note of this when it chose the State as a proving ground for air-mail pickup service.

"Private flying will occupy more and more of the attention of the people in the future. As to commercial flying," Chalfant asserted, "from Southwest Airport in Philadelphia, commercial planes are taking off daily to all parts of the world while planes from everywhere are coming in. World transportation will increase enormously in the future."

Chalfant was presented by Mrs. Earl Hepburn of Merion, president of the Council, who, with Mrs. John Stormfeltz of Penn Wynne, received the guests.

Assisting in pouring at the tea table were Mrs. Joseph Corby of Carroll Park and Mrs. Allan Smith of Penn Wynne.

NARBERTH SCHOOL NEWS

A play was presented by Miss Gassner in the auditorium at assembly on March 15.

The play didn't have a title. It was about a teacher, Miss Anybody, who has a very bad class and just can't control them. A boy named Very Dickens, who was full of mischief, didn't help the class at all. A very helpful angel helped the teacher from losing her temper.

Finally after a long day, a fairy put the teacher to sleep by dancing. The teacher dreams of all the pupils. They all seemed to have become very nice and say very nice things to the teachers. She realizes they are but children.

The teacher, Miss Anybody, was Jane Drennen; Very Dickens, Tom Lillis; the Angel, Katherine Blum; the Dancing Fairy, Barbara Ely; Christ, David Civitello.

The pupils were Alfred Ainscoe, Jack Paden, Jill Paden, Faith Lillis, Harry Watts, Dale McClain, Eleanor Blessing, Richard Furniss and Debbie Sidwell.

The opening exercises were led by James Chios.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK By R. J. SCOTT

The Grin that Won a War

DON'T LET HIM LOSE IT NOW!

HE WENT INTO BATTLE with a smile and a wise crack... he took all the enemy could throw at him, and suffered in silence when wounded.

We can't let him lose that spirit now. During the endless months of impatient waiting to come home ... during the monotonous tour of duty in the armies of occupation... or the long weeks of convalescing ... that is when thoughts may weigh heavily on his mind.

We at home helped him keep his chin up. When he's back, proudly wearing the little gold eagle, emblem of an honorable discharge... will that grin fade? Will that happy-go-lucky smile change to bitterness as he tries to adapt himself to civilian life? The grin that won a global war can win a private one and the Red Cross stands ready to help wherever need for its counsel and guidance exists.

Through the long, gruelling years of war the Red Cross reached across the sea and extended a friendly hand to our fighting forces... and those returning home can find in every local chapter the same spirit of helpfulness.

YOUR Red Cross MUST CARRY ON ... GIVE!

Local War Brides Arrive on Main Line This Week to Join Husbands

Shopping Trip Is First On List For Newcomers

Women Are Amazed at Luxury and Speed Of the American Way of Living

As fast as ships of all types and sizes can bring them to this country, war brides are joining their Main Line husbands.

From England, Ireland, and Australia, they are coming to Narberth, Ardmore, Bryn Mawr, and Haverford Township.

Even with the aid of the American Red Cross—which also notifies the American families of the date and time of their arrival—the war brides are finding that the American way of life is a little confusing at first. Their first shopping trips in stores that seem to them crammed full of merchandise, and the speed and apparent luxury of our everyday existence are constant sources of wonder to the slightly overwhelmed newcomers.

Hamburgs and Sodas

Mrs. Martin Vassallo, 26, formerly of Edgeware, Middlesex, England, couldn't wait until she got a taste of our hamburgers and ice cream sodas. But she managed to wait until Wednesday, which was a full two days after her arrival in New York aboard the Queen Mary.

Jean met her husband at a dance held in North Mimms, England. He was attached to the First General Hospital and held the rank of sergeant. A physiotherapist before he joined the Army, he has returned to his Main Line practice.

At her new home, 90 Greenfield Ave., Ardmore, Mrs. Vassallo's first source of wonder was the varying colors of the New York taxicabs after the monotony of the English type of conveyance. Then came a shopping trip in all the stores in Ardmore and 69th Street, and more surprises were in store for the newly arrived bride.

Mrs. Donald Casey, formerly of North Hampton, England, married her husband in December, 1944, and is the oldtimer of the group. Arriving in New York on February 16, aboard the Santa Paula, Mrs. Casey has come to like Narberth very much, and says she is more than happy in her new home at 20 Schiller Ave., Narberth.

Casey was in the service three years before receiving his discharge.

Over in Merion Golf Manor, Mrs. Lambert Muller-Thym, 20, arrived in New York on Friday aboard the Henry Gibbons, and was amazed at America's speed, luxury and abundance of rain. It poured all the way from New York to her new home at 200 Cedarbrook Rd. The former Miss Patricia Wilkinson, of Belfast, Ireland, she met her husband at a dance in the town and was married in September, 1945.

With a shopping spree in Philadelphia behind her, Pat's husband has threatened her with a pair of glasses for eyestrain because she has been trying to see everything in the shortest time possible.

In the service five years attached to the Eighth Air Force in England, Muller-Thym arrived home in November and received his discharge shortly thereafter.

Wants To Shop

Mrs. Ralph Tyson, formerly of Yorkshire, England, arrived in New York last Sunday aboard the Saturnia, and is "very anxious to make a shopping trip to Philadelphia."

Based in England for three years with the Eighth Air Force, Tyson met his wife while on a furlough in Leeds. They were married in April, 1945. A sergeant with the ground division, Tyson arrived home in December.

Mrs. Tyson, 23, is the former Joyce Day. A visit to the stores in Ardmore left her amazed at the variety and abundance of articles they displayed.

Mrs. John Beck, formerly of Leighton-Buzzard, Bedfordshire, England, made the trip over with her young daughter, Sandra, five months, aboard the Queen Mary. After a very successful trip across, with only a little seasickness, Sandra developed a cold almost as soon as they arrived at their new home, 621 Dayton Rd., Bryn Mawr. While caring for Sandra, Mrs. Beck is planning extensive visits to her new relatives in the vicinity.

Although on duty at a dance in Winifred's home town, Beck managed to see enough of her to persuade her to marry him in October, 1944. Based in England for 30 months with an M. P. division of the Air Force, Beck received his discharge in December, 1945.

Mrs. Jordan Henon, formerly of Melbourne, Australia, has been rushed ever since her ship, The Monteray, docked in San Francisco early in March. No sooner had she arrived in Cynwyd than they packed up and moved to their new home on Roslyn Lane, Wynnewood.

Clare met her husband at a party at her home, and they have been married two and a half years. Henon was discharged from the Chemical Warfare Department of the Army after three years service.

Then Henons, with their young daughter, Christine, 15 months, have only been in their new home about a week.

Just about getting settled, Mrs. Henon said, "Everyone has been very nice helping us to get fixed up. But one thing that will have to be done soon is a shopping trip for new clothes for both Christine and myself."

Mrs. John Tobin, of Swinden-Wilts, Wiltshire, England, was due to arrive in New York aboard the Volcania last Thursday. However, because of a change in shipping schedules, the ship is expected to arrive on March 22. The couple was married in October, 1945, and will make their home at 248 Meetinghouse Lane, Merion.

Another bride expected to arrive aboard the Vulcania is Mrs. T. B. Webster, who will make her home at 100 E. Park Rd., Llanerch. Mrs. Webster is the former Miss Sylvai Rees, of Axbridge, Somerset, England. The couple was married in England last Spring.

Parent Problems

AN INADVISABLE PRACTICE
By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

MANY mothers, properly wishing the child from one to five to go to his nap and night sleep happy, easily cultivate the habit of giving him something sweet to eat, candy, cake or cookie. Once this has been practiced a few times, it is difficult to discontinue. It soon becomes a ritual.

The practice has some things in its favor. It occurs usually soon after a meal. Often the morsel is relatively good food. It does make a happy association with going to bed. The psychology is good.

Bad Dentistry

However, the dentistry is bad. As it is not very practical to have this young child's teeth brushed after he has finished the sweet morsel in bed, he goes to sleep with materials on his teeth which tend to favor their decay. Therefore, dentists and pediatricians advise against this bedtime practice. You had better not begin it with the next baby unless you mean to continue it with the next-older youngster.

Suppose you wish to discontinue this ritual with your tot, three. I was about to say you should tell him this evening that, beginning tomorrow evening, he would no longer have this cherished morsel.

That would hardly work very well for the average youngster at three for he does not clearly know what "tomorrow" means. Have you ever tried to answer his question, "What is tomorrow?"

This Evening

Instead, tell him this evening, some while before bedtime, that he will have his cookie (or something else) now. After he has eaten it, brush his teeth or have him do so. If at bedtime he insists on having the goodie also, remind him that he already had it. Do your best to make him happy without it. At any rate, be sure he doesn't get it then or henceforth at bedtime.

Some parents, at the end of the tot's regular meal, place candy before him and let him eat as much as he likes and his teeth are brushed afterwards. I know an eminent pediatrician whose wife does so with his approval.

In spite of all that young mothers hear and read about sweets and the like between meals, and their bad effect on the teeth (if not immediately brushed) and on the child's appetite at the meal following their consumption, it is amazing how many toddlers and runabouts have sweets in the form of candy, ice cream cones or sodas between meals. As a rule, their pocket money goes for such.

Eating Problems

No doubt, many of the children reported to me as hard eating problems get considerable sweet foods between meals. Little Karen, three, who normally eats very heartily at meals chose to eat but very little food at lunch today. Her mother observed afterwards, "This is the price of my weakness today when we were in town, in giving her a piece of candy. It was the first time and it shall be the last."

(My bulletin, "Eating Problems: Their Prevention and Correction," may be had in a stamped envelope.)

No matter whether you accept the extreme theory that brushing the teeth is of no avail except for aesthetic purposes, or you believe that, in addition to proper diet, removal from the mouth of acid-forming materials and the like is desirable for preserving the teeth, the argument for no sweets, as a rule, stands, since the sweets do tend to diminish the appetite for teeth-building foods.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. The mother of four children from 7 years down to the mere infant writes: "The eldest will do many bad things while I am feeding or bathing the baby when I can't spank him."

A. At other times, train him to profit from chair-sitting punishment for exactly 30 minutes. Then a mere word from you can send him to the chair at any time. Try to approve him more when good and make him feel he is your fine big boy.

April Grand Jury To Consider Bills

The April Grand Jury convened at Norristown on Monday to consider bills of indictment in 45 cases to be presented by District Attorney Frederick B. Smillie. The Jury is composed of 18 women and one man.

Before being charged by Judge J. Corson, the 19 members of the panel elected Mrs. Anne Thalmann, of Wyncote, as foreman, and Jesse H. Hall, the only man on the jury, as secretary.

Judge Corson instructed the members that after they have completed their work in considering the criminal cases, they have the right to inspect the county prison, house of detention and the county home.

Overseas Army mail should be addressed with the soldier's full name, rank, Army Serial number, organization and unit, Army Post Office (APO) number and should be sent in care of the Postmaster at the port of embarkation through which the mail is routed. INSIDE WASHINGTON

Special to Central Press

Washington — Despite Senator Arthur Vandenberg's London statement that he is not a presidential candidate for 1948, it does not rule out an outside chance that he might win the GOP nomination nor that he would welcome it.

Vandenberg has been catapulted into the world scene as a UNO delegate, and is the spokesman for one trend of foreign-policy thought within his party. Oddly, he was helped along by an administration he criticized vigorously for its doings on the home front.

His pre-Yalta foreign policy address so pleased the late President Roosevelt that he named "Big Van" a delegate to the San Francisco conclave. Subsequently, President Truman sent him to London.

Vandeberg could hardly forget the roar of the crowds at the Philadelphia GOP convention in 1940, when he had a fair chance to capture the nomination that later went to the late Wendell Willkie.

In Chicago four years later he was shoved into the background by Governor Dewey. But two years hence it might be different—to some extent depending on the success of UNO and the part he plays in it.

Observers figure the big scramble may be among Minnesota's ex-Governor Stassen, representing GOP's "left wing" in world policy; Dewey, and former Governor Bricker, Ohio conservative and 1944 vice-presidential candidate.

If Stassen is beaten, if Dewey is out, and Bricker comes a cropper the waiting man in the background would appear to be "Big Van."

President Truman's order curtailing the use of wheat in whiskey and beer will not hurt the drinking public too much.

According to those in the industry distilled spirits may suffer a little in quantity but there will be enough to go around.

Distillers use chiefly the best grades of corn and rye. Wheat was added as a stretcher during the war. Thus, they figure they will not be hit too hard.

There is a possibility, however, that spirits may be conserved for the whiskey output and the production of gin halted as it was during the war.

Beer brewers say they expected a decreased demand for their brews after the war, so they, too, are not worrying much.

The Commerce Department wants the ladies of the land to know that their precious nylons are not going overseas while stockingless legs are getting gooseplmples from standing in lines to await the sheerest hose.

So Arthur Paul, director of the Office of International Trade, came forward with the figures. He said: Less than one per cent of American nylons go abroad.

In 1945, he said, only 354,000 of the 40,000,000 pairs made in America were diverted to foreign markets.

The Government's new housing program calling for 1,500,000 prefabricated homes in 1946 and 1947 is going to have some tough sledding unless some prompt action is taken to insure their construction.

The reason: "Prefabs" are anathema in many communities. "City Fathers" do not want them and building trades unions, along with suppliers of building materials, are turning up their noses at them.

In fact, scores of cities and towns have city ordinances which prohibit such homes. And unions contend they drastically curtail workers' incomes. But the government is committed to an emergency program of pre-fabricated housing. Numerous industries are ready for mass production.

Wilson Wyatt, dynamic housing expediter, is appealing to unions and communities to remove their barriers. If they don't there may be a clash with the federal government, because the administration is determined to take a long step torward solving the housing shortage quickly.

All Drivers Warned To Secure Licenses

Motorists generally and those recently discharged from the armed forces in particular are advised by Walter N. White, Travel Director of The Automobile Club of Philadelphia-AAA, that they must have a 1946 operator's license to drive legally in Pennsylvania.

"This problem is arising more frequently each day," Mr. White declared, "because many ex-service people have gotten the idea somewhere that an old Pennsylvania driver's license or a GI license will permit them to drive after being discharged from the service. This is in no sense true, the law requiring the discharged service man or woman to take out a Pennsylvania driver's license immediately upon being discharged. It is also well to remember that a learner's permit does not permit one to drive legally without the presence of a licensed driver in the front seat of the car. This type of violation, committed for the most part through ignorance of the law, also has occurred with rising frequency of late."

Factors That Determine Veteran's Pension Rate

Closest to the heart of every veteran who wears a wound stripe is adequate medical care. Gen. Omar Bradley, administrator of veterans' affairs, shortly after his appointment, picked as his assistant to have charge of the medical and surgical division of VA, a man who is no stranger to wounded vets.

He is Maj. Gen. Paul R. Hawley, who was chief surgeon of the European theater of war, and as such had under his direction 254,000 medical department men, including 16,000 doctors, 4,500 dentists and 18,000 nurses. Under his administration more than 1,500,000 patients were admitted to army hospitals in the European theater and of this number 340,000 were battle casualties. So General Hawley has had fighting men in time of war and has been chosen to head up the medical branch of VA because of this experience and great success.

Under the expanding hospital program of VA General Hawley is calling upon the best medical and surgical brains of the nation to take a hand in the great rehabilitation program of disabled veterans. The idea to take veterans' hospitals close to the medical centers of the nation reflects one of General Hawley's plans to decentralize and bring treatment as close to the home towns of the country as possible.

Questions and Answers

Q. Our boy was taken into the army. We are farming 520 acres of land, milking 12 to 20 cows by hand the year round, raising over 350 head of hogs a year. I am physically unfit to do any farm work. This work is all up to two boys 19 and 20, one a 4-F. We must hire a man to replace the boy that is gone. He has set aside $30 of his wages to help pay for this help. Will the government match this, and if so how do we go about getting it? This boy was really needed.—L. U., Gladbrook, Iowa.

A. Your local selective service board had the responsibility of deciding whether or not your boy was needed more on the farm than in the army. If they had decided he was needed there, he would have been given an agricultural deferment under the selective service law. No, there is no provision for the government to match the $30 per month. If you can prove a hardship case, which is unlikely, the boy could ask for a discharge on that ground. He would have to initiate the case through his commanding officer.

Q. Is the widow of a World War I veteran entitled to a pension if the husband's death is not connected with the war? Do World War I veterans receive pensions? If a disability allowance was discontinued and the case reviewed and refused again what can one do? Is the wife of a World War I veteran entitled to medical care? —Mrs. J. H., Tower, Minn.

A. Yes, the widow of a World War I veteran is entitled to a pension although death is not service connected. Only disabled veterans receive pensions. In case a disability allowance is discontinued and reviewed and refused again, the veteran has the right to appeal to a board of the VA. Wives of World War I veterans are not entitled to medical care.

Q. I have a lot on a main highway. I'd like to put up a business but in order to do this I need around $2,000. Could you send me full instructions on how to go about this matter and just what I must do?—Mrs. H. F. S., Selma, Ala.

A. Go to your bank and ask if they will make you a G. I. loan on the proposition. If they consider it a good risk, they will take care of all the details.

Q. When and how is transportation for servicemen's kin available and what are the chances for the wife of a PFC whose husband is stationed in Regensburg, Germany?—Mrs. C. O. B., Chamberlain, S. D.

A. The serviceman must initiate the request with his commanding officer. If the request is granted you will be notified of all details. Only wives are eligible.

Q. I was discharged from the army in January, 1944, because of wounds received when I stepped on a land mine. I had temporary amnesia and head injuries. Have only a 45-degree extension of my left arm. Otherwise am in perfect shape. How do I go about getting back into the army?—M. N., Eugene, Ore.

A. The army has lowered its regulations somewhat upon physical requirements and would suggest you discuss the question with your local recruiting office, or you may contact your draft board.

Courses In Soil Conservation Are Offered To Vets

VA and Agriculture Department Propose On-Job Training

Training veterans for positions with the U. S. Soil Conservation Service and the Forest Service under Public Law 16 (for disabled veterans) and the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (GI Bill of Rights) will be provided under an agreement between the Department of Agriculture and the Veterans Administration, VA announced.

Lists of Soil Conservation and Forest Service field stations throughout the country where on-the-job training will be offered have been submitted to VA by the Department of Agriculture.

A total of 10 regional offices and 12 Forest and Range experiment stations where qualified training may be given were submitted by the Forest Service, while Soil Conservation submitted eight regional office headquarters where contact may be made by VA representatives for the purpose of establishing training programs.

Under the agreement, each VA Regional Manager will be responsible for approving the training facilities offered by Soil Conservation and Forest Service field stations in his territory. The training course may be confined to the on-the-job training and a course of study in the educational institution, VA stated.

Although the main purpose of the agreement is to train and rehabilitate veterans so that they will be eligible for employment within the department, Agriculture is not legally obligated to hire veterans upon completion of the training program. VA regional managers have therefore been instructed by H. V. Stirling, Assistant Administrator, Vocational Rehabilitation and Education, to explore carefully the possibilities of employment of the veteran in other fields before his entrance into this training.

Under the agreement, a veteran may be accepted into training either as a civil service employee in training status obtained through regular competitive examinations, or as a trainee without benefit of civil service status and not in receipt of wages from the Department of Agriculture.

Upon acceptance of training the veteran will be under the supervision of the Department of Agriculture but regular checks and contacts to ascertain his progress and adaptability to the program will be made by VA representatives.

Veterans may file applications for training under this program at the regional office nearest their home.

Relations Urged To Consult Attorneys For Benefit Claims

Minor, Incompetent Beneficiaries Can Be Helped By Officials

Relatives of veterans or others interested in the appointment of guardians for minor or incompetent beneficiaries of the Veterans Administration should consult the Chief Attorneys at VA Regional Offices before initiating action in state courts, VA said. To do so may save both trouble and expense.

This suggestion was offered by Charles E. Schuyler, Associate Solicitor of VA's Guardianship Service, in anticipation of an increase of such beneficiaries because of World War II. It is, however, equally applicable to others entitled to benefits from VA because of service in World War I, other wars, or peace-time service.

Some cases have been brought to the attention of the Guardianship Service in which court costs and other expenses have been incurred in appointments of guardians which might have been avoided had the Chief Attorneys been consulted before taking action. Court action to appoint a guardian is not always necessary, Mr. Schuyler pointed out, for in many such cases VA is authorized by Federal law to recognize a fiduciary, designated as legal custodian to whom payments in behalf of a beneficiary may be released.

Chief attorney's offices are equipped to give advice and assistance in all matters pertaining to guardianship, and to provide maximum assistance to state courts, as well as to minor or incompetent beneficiaries or their legal representatives. The staff includes lawyers and field examiners trained in procedures and problems of guardianship.

As of February 28, 1946, there were 107,698 beneficiaries of VA under guardians or legal custodians. Of this number 61,964 were minor wards and 45,734 mentally incompetent, with 4,797 of the latter being non-veterans. These non-veterans consist of designated beneficiaries of veterans' insurance and dependent relatives eligible for veterans' pensions and compensation. More than 18,000 beneficiaries, under legal disability, have been added to the rolls since July, 1945, the total of all World War II minor and incompetent beneficiaries on February 28, 1946, being 26,548. Fewer than 5,000 guardians have been appointed by state courts for World War II veterans.

Just A Common Rifleman

Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of case histories of local servicemen who have contacted the Veterans Service Center in Bryn Mawr. The center besides endeavoring to aid the veterans in personal problems also place veterans in jobs, apprentice training, and on-the-job training. They also handle veterans processing with the Veterans' Administration and assist them in entering school and colleges.

One of our neighborhood boys called at the office the other day, while home on a hospital furlough. He had been shot by a sniper in France.

The bullet had penetrated his arm, gone up under the shoulder, entered again under his jaw, through his face, removing one eye, and across his forehead. This boy was one of the happiest men I have ever seen. His joy at getting home was unbounded.

I asked him when he expected to be discharged and he answered that he might be held for limited service. I suggested that he might be held as an instructor. "Oh, no," he replied, "I am just a common rifleman."

He did not think that he was anybody in particular, but to me he typifies that great mass of men who are winning the war for us. These are the men that sleep and fight in the snow and the muck, and after their tanks are destroyed, and on the days when the ceiling prevents air cooperation, continue to hold the line or to advance it. Such were the men of Bastogne; in the Argonne; at Gettysburg; on San Juan Hill; behind the cotton bales at New Orleans; and at Princeton.

Hats off to the "common riflemen," and may most of them come back to us.

Mac Checks In

Mac has been gone four years, and here he stands—a veteran now returned to us from the Asiatic-Pacific Theater. His skin is the color of a muddy lemon, showing the effects of some tropical liver disease.

To start conversation, I say, "So you are back from the wars, are you?"

"Yes," he replies, "and things have certainly changed. All the way back on the transport, I had visions of a big, juicy, steak. I scouted around for a swell-looking restaurant. Do you know what I got? Ham and eggs! They said they hadn't had a steak in a week."

"My girl met me at the station. We were walking along a main street, and when about twenty-five feet from the corner, I grabbed her arm and started across the street. A cop blows his whistle and bawls me out for jay-walking. He asks for my papers. I tell him I'm discharged and under military law for five more minutes, since my twenty-four hours following discharge has not quite elapsed. "All right, soldier, get the Hell out of here. If it was five minutes later, this would have cost you two dollars."

"Where do I get a ration book?" "My mother told me to be sure and bring one back or I wouldn't eat. What is going on back here, anyway?"

VA Seeks 1500 Trained Workers For Rehabilitation Program

At least one out of every four patients in Veterans Administration hospitals can be helped materially through a medical rehabilitation program of education and shop training.

This belief was expressed by Dr. Donald A. Covalt, Assistant Medical Director for Medical Rehabilitation, in announcing that VA is seeking to hire more than 1,500 specially trained personel in order to bring the rehabilitation program to every ward of VA's 100 hospitals.

During the war, some 5,000 individuals were trained in various phases of reconditioning and convalescent programs. These people now constitute the only large pool of specialists for medical rehabilitation and VA is particularly desirous of placing them in hospitals where their skills can be used to help veteran patients.

Several categories of personnel are needed at once, including physicians in medical rehabilitation and in physical medicine; qualified lay personnel with experience in directing a medical rehabilitation service; physical therapists; shop retraining instructors and supervisors for industrial and trade instruction at the pre-vocational level; occupational therapists; teachers and supervisors in academic and commercial subjects; and specialists in corrective physical rehabilitation for remedial work with the disabled.

"The emphasis in the VA program will be on having the veteran's rehabilitation begin in the hospital at the earliest possible date," Dr. Covalt stated, "so that he can either return home to a job which will make him self-sufficient as soon as possible, or be able to enter advanced phases of rehabilitation after discharge from the hospital."

The top positions in each hospital and the key branch medical rehabilitation personnel will be hired by the VA Central Office in Washington (Room 880). The bulk of the new employes will be hired at the hospitals. Additional details are now available from the Washington VA Office, and will soon be obtainable from all VA hospitals.

In addition to the 13 branch offices, there are hospital positions open for instructors at $2,320; supervisors at $2,980; and hospital chiefs from $3,640 to $4,300. Other positions in various activities of the program carry salaries from $2,100 to $7,175.

A medical rehabilitation officer may be either a physician or a qualified layman with traing in this special field. When the officer is a layman, a medical consultant will serve as an advisor to guide carefully all professional medical aspects of the rehabilitation program.

The shop retraining service will conduct training programs to give patients opportunities for "exploratory experiences on the prevocational level" in both semi-skilled and skilled activities in shops. Also, disabled patients will be provided with activities to help them overcome their physical handicaps and aid them in occupational adjustment.

The educational retraining staff will coordinate the medical rehabilitation objectives and educational opportunities for high school, college, or vocational courses. The United States Armed Forces Institute has been asked to provide basic and advanced instruction to enable veterans to learn such things as how to run small businesses such as filling stations and retail stores and how to operate farms. Through suceh courses, it will be possible for patients in VA hospitals to get a high school education without leaving their beds.

In addition, negotiations now are under way whereby VA patients, free of charge, may take advanced academic work for college or university credit, through the extension departments operated by most schools.

Zygmont (Ziggy) Zamylinski, former Villanova College football star, has signed with the San Francisco club of the All-America Conference, it was disclosed Tuesday.

Zamlynski, who played under Coach Clipper Smith in 1941, '42 and '43, was signed by Vince McNally, San Francisco scout. McNally served as assistant coach during Smith's tenure at Villanova. Weighing 210 pounds, the 6-foot-2 fullback is rated an outstanding receiver and defender against passes by McNally.

G. I. Bill loans for purchases of homes, farms or entering into businss are now being approved at a rate of 4,000 a week, the Veterans Administration has advised The American Legion.

Official Requires 24 Hour Medical Duty In Hospitals

Chief Director Insists Service Must Be Available Always

Dr. Paul R. Hawley, Chief Medical Director of the Veterans Administration, ordered VA hospitals to maintain 24-hour medical service for veterans.

Dr. Hawley said that some complaints had been received that medical care was available to veterans only during the usual business hours. In an outline of VA's policies to each medical director of the 13 branches who will soon receive responsibility under decentralization of medical services, he insisted that 24 hour service must be available.

In small regional offices, where continuous duty would be a hardship to the few doctors assigned, Dr. Hawley said that a clerk could receive telephone calls but that "a responsible medical officer" must be "on call". All hospitals will have at least one or more doctors on duty at all times.

Other instructions include:

1. Neglect of patients will be considered an "unforgivable sin."

2. Overtime pay will not be paid to doctors, dentists, or nurses in the Department of Medicine and Surgery who are not in Civil Service.

3. Requirements of patients will govern hours of duty for doctors.

Neglect of patients, Dr. Hawley wrote, "will not be tolerated under any circumstances. Patients will be seen promptly upon admission, and as often thereafter as their condition requires, and certainly at least once daily."

"In principle, I do not like prescribing duty hours for doctors—as, for example, from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.—for the reason that this encourages the feeling that duty is restricted to such hours," Dr. Hawley said.

As to the relationship of professional personnel with the patient, Dr. Hawley said that medical personnel must give courteous and interested attention to patients."

Regional VA Office Has Night Jobs Open

War veterans qualified as clerk-typists are assured of immediate night employment in the Veterans Administration, Philadelphia Regional Office, John T. Thompson, Manager, revealed today. Non-veteran typists formerly employed in Federal agencies are also being accepted to the extent of unavailability of veterans. Civil Service standards must be met.

Night work pays these VA employees a differential of 10 percent, the Manager pointed out, and time over forty hours in a week is paid at the rate of time and one half.

The VA Regional employment offices are located in the New Customs Building at Chestnut and Second Streets.

Special Services Offices To Move

The Special Services Office of the Veterans Administration will be moved from the Central Office to the Munitions Building March 18 in order to obtain more space for its growing activities, VA disclosed recently.

Special services, headed by F. R. Kerr, is charged with athletic, canteen, library, chaplaincy, recreation, and entertainment services in all VA hospitals, homes, and branch offices. Established in January, the division already has a staff of 68, located at VA Central Office here, and this probably will be increased to more than 100 by summer. Recruitment is also being carried on in the field.

The move will locate the division next to the VA Supply and Construction Services, which are housed in the Munitions Building.

Legion Investigates Surplus Complaints

Hundreds of complaints of veterans that they are blocked from purchase of surplus property as provided by law have brought a statement from National Commander John Stelle that this situation will receive the immediate aggressive attention of The American Legion.

The national commander has called on all World War II veterans and all Legionnaires who have been deprived of their rights to report their experiences to the national public relations division of The American Legion, 777 North Meridian St., Indianapolis 6, Indiana.

"All such individual reports will be checked and passed on to the proper authorities in Washington," Commander Stelle said. "The American Legion will follow through to assist all everans in every way it can to secure their rights."

Commander Stelle said all complaints will be catalogued by states. Copies will be sent to local posts and state headquarters of The American Legion to secure their cooperation in effective action.

"If we find any grounds for any criminal proescution in any case, I will refer the matter to our national judge advocate for appropriate legal action," Commander Stelle emphasized. "The American Legion will act without fear or favor."

Swimming Meet Listed For Friday

Patients and personnel at Valley Forge General Hospital will witness the annual swimming meet between Bryn Mawr and Swarthmore colleges to be held on Friday afternoon at 3 p. m. in the hospital swimming pool, it was announced by Brigadier General W. W. Vaughan, hospital commanding general.

Both speed and form will determine the winning team.

Nine events have been booked for the two schools. They are free-style, back stroke (speed), breast stroke (speed), crawl stroke (form), side stroke (form), b- stroke (form), medley relay, free-style relay and diving.

The dual meet is being held under the auspices of the hospital Reconditioning Service for the benefit of patients here.

VA Attempting To Speed-Up Hospital Construction

Directive Issued By Head of Building Committee

The Veterans Administration ordered "full speed ahead" on hospital construction projects already underway in a further effort to relieve the current shortage of beds in veteran's hospitals throughout the country.

In a letter to deputy administrators in charge of VA's 13 branch offices, "every resource at VA's command" has been ordered utilized in overcoming delays hampering present construction, which includes many bed-producing hospital additions and miscellaneous auxiliary projects. These delays have been caused chiefly by wartime shortages of manpower and materials.

This directive, issued by J. J. Rockefeller, Director of Construction, calls for a survey of all factors bearing on existing delays and orders everly possible speed-up in progress of the work.

Rockefeller said, in part:

"Considering the urgent need for hospital beds to take care of disabled veterans, every resource at the command of this Administration must be utilized in overcoming delays occurring in the construction of bed-producing and in expediting the availability of hospital beds. It is, therefore, requested that you promptly assign competent personnel of your Construction and Supply Division to make a survey of the construction projects in your territory as herewith tabulated with the view of overcoming existing delays, avoiding future delays and speeding up the present progress of the work."

Private contractors hold 105 contracts totalling $43,505,000 for projects scattered throughout the United States which, upon completion, will provide about 8,600 additional beds for veteran patients. This list includes the new 2,127-bed neuropsychiatric hospital at Lebanon, Pa., which is 65 per cent complete, and the new 1,172-bed neuropsychiatric hospital at Tomah, Wis., 50 per cent complete.

These construction projects, including the two hospitals mentioned, are already being built and are not on the list of hospitals turned over to the Army Engineers recently to be erected under their supervision.

Three American Legion posts at Corpus Christi, Texas, have raised $2,000 to build a home for Pfc. T. M. Jarvis, Jr., who lost both legs in combat in Germany.

PHILADELPHIA ELECTRIC COMPANY

Norristown-Clifton Heights To Meet At Lower Merion Gym

SPORTS SCENE

By JACK FORD

Bill Anderson was pacing nervously back and forth before the Lafayette bench, in typical Anderson pre-game fashion, when he spotted Herb Good in the press box of Lehigh University's gymnasium.

Anderson cupped his hands, hollered, "How'd my alma mater do tonight?" Good, who manages the Brookline team when he isn't writing basketball for The Record, was filing results of the Muhlenberg-Ursinus game. He queried his telegraph operator.

"Radnor won, 46-39," Herbie bellowed above the roar of 2800 Grace Hall spectators. Andy registered disappointment. He brushed his hands through his graying hair, like a man who had been expecting bad news, but wasn't quite willing to accept it.

"It's too bad the kids couldn't come through after going so far," Anderson remarked. "Lower Merion deserves a lot of credit this season . . . Ollie didn't have too much to work with and they went further than almost anyone expected."

Eager and excited, tearful but unterrified, Andy then turned toward the business at hand—a Middle Atlantic Conference championship game with Rutgers. It's no news to relate that Lafayette turned on the heat in the concluding minutes to win going away, 52-39. It was the Leopards' third triumph over Rutgers this season.

Later, Andy's first thought was whether the conquest would earn Lafayette a Madison Square Garden game next season. From all appearances, it will. And the resurgent Leopards also are expected to play St. Joseph's in Convention Hall next year They may be back on Penn's schedule soon.

* * *

While Lafayette's titular triumph over Rutgers was welcome, it came as an anti-climax. For, the day before, the Leopards haltered Muhlenberg's Mules, 59-58, in an extra period to win themselves national acclaim.

Muhlenberg, which had previously received a bid to the National Invitation tournament in New York, lost only three games in 2b starts this season. And two of the setbacks were meted out by Anderson's scrappy passers.

"I doubt whether I'll ever get such a kick out of any other season no matter how long I remain at Lafayette," Dandy Andy said later. "I never had a gang of kids who fought so hard or scrapped so consistently with everything they had here. They're really a grand bunch."

Anderson's feat, of molding a championship club despite the service loss of two regulars in midseason, has earned him recognition as the "Coach of the Year."

For a fellow who turned out four State championship basketball teams in 20 years at Lower Merion, that's not exactly a novelty. He wears that mantle with distinction and dignity, but certainly not as though it were new.

Narberth, Ardmore Athletes Awarded Letters at Peddie

Hugh Jeffries, of Narberth, has been awarded a varsity basketball letter for his play at Peddie School this season. He was runnerup in team scoring.

Jeffries, who lives at 607 Braeburn Rd., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Jeffries. His father is a former Peddie and Princeton University athlete.

Another local athlete, Luther W. Smith, Jr., received a wrestling letter. He is the son of Dr. Luther W. Smith, 129 St. Paul's Rd., Ardmore.

Main Line Baseball Loop Reorganizes

The Main Line Baseball League will be reorganized next Tuesday, March 26 at a meeting in the recreation room of the Montgomery Court Apartments, Narberth, at 8 P. M.

Teams interested in franchises should file their applications immediately with Secretary Charles E. Harnden, 816 Harrison Bldg., Phila. (2) Pa. (RIT 2102), and have representatives present at Tuesday's meeting.

Main Line League Title Playoff Series Here; Narberth Eliminated

Narberth, last local hope in the Main Line League playoff series, was eliminated by Clifton Heights Thursday, but Borough basketball fans will be given an unexpected opportunity to watch Norristown and Clifton battle it out for the crown.

The third game of the playoff series will be played at Lower Merion High's Downs Gymnasium beginning Monday night. Succeeding games will be staged on the Ardmore court every Thursday and Monday night thereafter until the title finally is decided.

The change in playing sites was made to accommodate larger crowds, league officials explained. The Lower Merion gymnasium can comfortably accommodate 1400 fans and at least that number is expected to witness each encounter.

In the opening game of the title round, Norristown took the lead by blasting Clifton Heights, 54-46, last Monday night. The game was played at Norristown High School.

Leading by a scant 16-14 in the opening period, Norristown boosted its margin to 28-21 in the second session. Clifton caged 14 points to Norristown's 13 in the third period, but in vain. For the homesters, never yielding the upper hand, produced 13 points in the final quarter.

Mike Bellak, former Bridgeport High ace, paced Norristown's Eagles to triumph with 15 points on seven field goals and a foul. Jim Coughlin caged 13 points and Joe Gilinger, league-leading scorer, had 11. Art Spector, ex-Villanova College star, and Koehler had 14 points each for Johnny Wise's team.

Clifton Heights played host to Norristown Thursday night in the high school gymnasium. Each team won 22 games and lost six during the regular league season. In four previous meetings, Norristown won by 50-45 and 45-32, while Clifton conquered the Eagles, 69-53 and 89-57.

Narberth bowed out of the league playoffs when Clifton won for the second time, 63-45. The Borough five faced an 11-point deficit at halftime and never closed the gap, despite Harry Middleton's 12 points and 10 by Johnny Lose. Spector scored 16 points for Clifton and Mullen had 15.

Meanwhile, it was announced by Charles Harnden, league president, that Monday night's third game will be broadcast over WFIL. Tom Moorehead, assisted by Don Kellett, former Penn coach, will make a transcription of the second half, which will be aired at 11.15 P. M.

Similar broadcasts have been made of suburban high school games throughout the season. This will be the first independent court event to be broadcast.

Radnor Five Gains Eastern Finals In PIAA Tournament

Raiders Nose Out Lancaster High By 42-37

Radnor High won its way to the Eastern Regional finals of the PIAA basketball tournament Tuesday night, upsetting Lancaster's tall team, 42-37, at Allentown's neutral court.

The Red Raiders, who have won 27 of their last 28 games, will meet the winner of Friday night's encounter between Allentown's State champions and Williamsport High.

The Eastern Regional game will be played Monday night at Philadelphia Convention Hall, and in all probability it will match Radnor and Allentown for the second consecutive season.

Leading Radnor's redoubtable passers to triumph against Lancaster, District Three titlist, was Stu Adams. The lanky Negro center, one of the best basketball players ever developed on the Main Line, looped 22 points on seven field goals and eight fouls and gave a spectacular all-around performance.

The score was tied 11 times and the lead changed hands on seven occasions before Radnor finally pulled ahead in the concluding minutes. Then, leading by 42-36 with three minutes remaining, the Raiders tenaciously froze the ball to protect their margin.

Haverford School Crewmen Report

Returning to the rowing scene for the first time in five years, Haverford School crew candidates are working out every afternoon at the quarters of Undine Boat Club.

More than 30 oarsmen are drilling under the tutelage of Gus Derkits, ex-Undine sweep champion, who recently was discharged after 40 months in the Navy. Not a single Haverford husky has ever been in a shell or had any previous rowing experience, so Derkits faces a tough task.

Haverford won a national eight-oared championship in 1941, when the Main Line school last sponsored the sport. Among the members of the squad, with their weights, are:

Furling 165, Romoser 131, H. Lusson 119, D. Lusson 146, J. Smith 156, E. Smith 151, Sheffy 159, Wearn 149, Wolf 151, Gesner 164, Lowre 162, Dannehower 134, Ludeke 159, Marscher 121, Vorker 170, Duff 170, Quillman 150, Hompe 136, Beal 146, Bretherton 135, Spencer 134, Sharp 118, Kimmich 143, Cornman 179. Three coxswains reported: Laws 90, Conrad 117, and Breyer 80.

L. Merion Casting Ace Finishes First In Outdoors Show

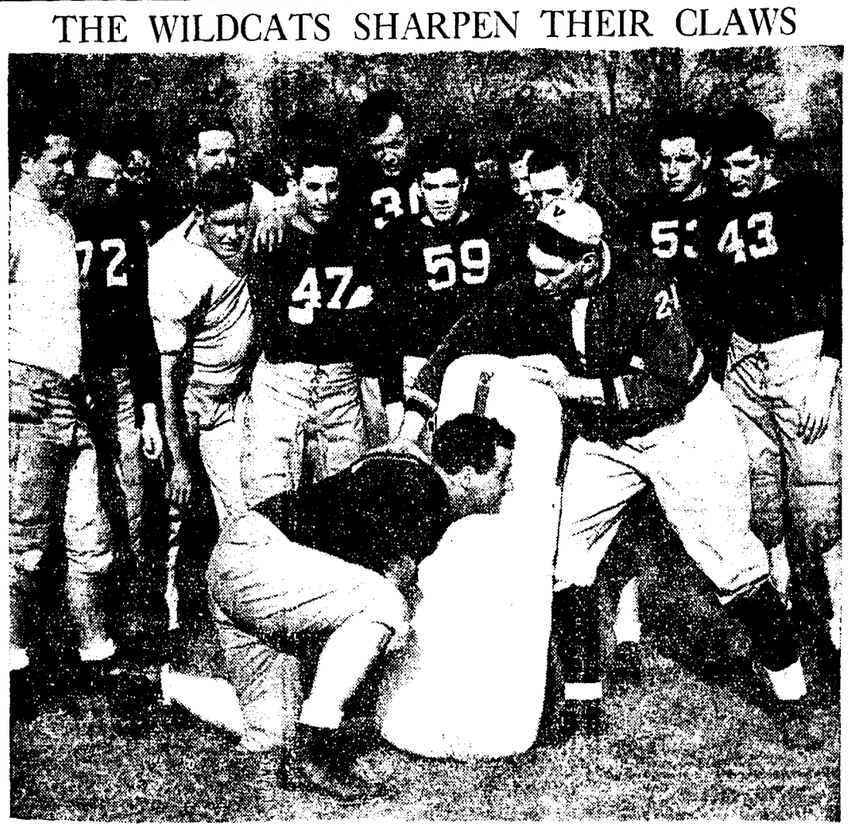

Ernie Jenkins, of Lower Merion Rod and Gun Club, finished first in the finals of the 5/8-ounce plug casting championship staged during the Philadelphia Records Outdoors Show, Friday night.

The first three finishers of each previous night's competition were in the castoff, and Jenkins was acclaimed the winner with a 96 average. Hobart Lavin, Pennsylvania State Fish and Game Association, tallied 95 for second.

In the novice class, Nelson Spence, Wenonah, N. J., won with 93, but Lower Merion's Charlie Spence, Jr., was second with 86. Third place went to another Lower Merion member, Charles Spence, Sr. with 82.

Brookline Boy Scout Troop No. 18 held a special contest, with Jack Schultze and Richard Winter finishing in a tie for first place.

THE WILDCATS SHARPEN THEIR CLAWS

Villanova inaugurated football practice last week in Spring-like weather as 75 promising prospects romped over the Main Line turf. One of the guard aspirants, Norm Restaine, is shown a charging tip by Jordan Olivar, starting his fourth season as Villanova coach.

Seventy-Five Candidates Report As Spring Grid Drills Begin At Villanova

Villanova College faces one of its most ambitious football schedules in history during the 1946 season. But it was revealed Wednesday, when the Wildcats inaugurated spring practice, that the best material in recent years is available.

"This is the best material I've had since I took over at Villanova," Coach Jordan Olivar exclaimed, as 75 likely-looking huskies punted and passed and performed calisthenics. This is Olivar's fourth season at Villanova.

"We have 20 boys back from last year's varsity and a dozen who played under Clipper Smith in 1941 and '42. I look for the older boys and returned veterans to exert a steadying influence on the newcomers."

Villanova will conduct spring workouts for six weeks, playing one or two practice games with nearby colleges. Assisting Olivar is Jerry Neri, who handled the backs last year, and Art Ramo, ex-Villanova star who previously coached at Ridley Township High.

About 90 percent of the squad members saw some military service and several are Navy V-12 trainees. Returning regulars include Art Alois; Fullback Tom McCarthy, Ends Charlie Darcy and Ed Narcum, and Bill Lilienthal, 215-pound tackle. All were in some branch of the armed forces.

John Witsch, who earned All-Public League honors at Northeast High, is bidding for a center assignment. Other Philadelphia district prospects who recently were discharged include Frank Kane, West Catholic, an end; Dan Robinson, Chester ace who played for Great Lakes Navy; Anton Zanzinger, Ridley Township; Al Zimba, Ben Franklin guard, and Mike Santacroce, Overbrook end who played for the ETO Army championship team.

Twenty-two backfield candidates reported. Among them were Jack Rothenhauser, the ex-Easton High sensation who starred on the 1941 freshman team; Tom Padgett and Ed Dost, Marine veterans who prepped at Haddonfield High; Al Litwa, Camden High, and St. Joseph High's Andy Gordon.

Among the holdovers from last season's team, which won four out of eight games against major opponents, are Vince McPeak and Romeo Capriotti, backs; Lou Ferry and Jim Feeney, tackles, and Tom Smith, ex-St. Joseph's captain, guard.

Haverford College Tossers Will Open At Naval Diamond

Hornet Nine Plays Hospital Team On April 10

Thirty candidates reported as Haverford College inaugurated baseball practice for the first time since 1942 March 11 on the Main Liners' diamond.

Bill Docherty, assistant coach, was in charge of the opening workout in the absence of Roy Randall, who was attending a Middle Atlantic Conference confab in Bethlehem.

Both Docherty and Randall recently returned from the services. Randall served as a Marine captain, in charge of athletic programs at Parris Island, S. C., and overseas. Docherty, a Navy lieutenant, was assigned to convoy duty in the North Atlantic.

The Hornet team lacks experience, but Chuck Boteler, Marine veteran and member of the 1942 football team, appears to be one of the more promising candidates. Boteler is a catcher but may be used in the outfield if a replacement can be found.

Bill Hedges, another returned serviceman, and John Tychanich, who previously played for Kent School, Conn., may win outfield assignments. Charlie Matlack, soccer star and former Navy ensign, is the leading light in the infield.

Pitching candidates include Bob White, ex-Army captain and captain-elect of the football team; Ted Wright, George School graduate; Chuck Geiges, ex-Haverford High athlete and a son of the Northeast High football coach, and Tom Gerlach, left-hander from Friends Select School.

Others participating in the workout for the April 10 opener against Philadelphia Naval Hospital, were:

THE SCHEDULE

April 10, Philadelphia Naval Base, away; 13, Moravian, away; 17, Ursinus; 20, Drexel; 24, Moravian; Pennsylvania Military College, away; May 1, Delaware, away; 4, Philadelphia Naval Base; 8, Delaware; 11, Ursinus, away; 15, Drexel, away; 18, Swarthmore, away.

Wins Letter

Hightstown, New Jersey—Luther W. Smith, Jr., son of Dr. Luther W. Smith of 129 St. Paul's Rd., Ardmore, has been awarded his varsity wrestling letter for his participation on the wrestling team this term.

Smith, a member of the senior class, entered Peddie September 22, 1942.

St. Joseph Upsets Pole Vaulters For Loop Crown, 31-9

Exhibiting an impregnable defense, St. Joseph scored a surprise 31 to 9 triumph over Pole Vaulters to capture the Saturday Morning Recreation League title at the Haverford High court.

Both teams won their way to the title round by beating formidable rivals, but Pole Vaulters had won eight of 10 league games and figured to take St. Joseph in the season's finale. Instead, St. Joseph, displaying a fast-breaking offense and invulnerable defense, won almost as it pleased.

In all, Pole Vaulters scored only four field goals, two of which were credited to Plantz. He had one in each half. Pole Vaulters' only other two-pointers were scored by Patton and Kelly, both of whom tallied in the opening periods.

Meanwhile, St. Joseph rocketed to an early lead and never was headed as Muir, Foley and Bob Sweeney led the assault. Muir scored nine points for the winners, while Sweeney accounted for 10 on three field goals and four fouls, and Foley accounted for four baskets.

Reed at Middlebury

Robert H. Reed, of 401 Anthyn Rd., Narberth, is a candidate for the track team at Middlebury College, Vt. Ninty-nine candidates for Muddlebury's track, baseball, golf and tennis teams reported March 5, despite a foot of snow on the campus.

Townsend And Fuselli Only Veterans As L. M. Opens Baseball Drills

Lower Merion High will have only two lettermen on hand when the Maroon opens its 1946 baseball season on April 2 at Friends Central. The only holdovers are Don Townsend, outfielder, and Nat Fuselli, who alternated at shortstop and third base.

"We'll apparently be weakest in the pitching department, but lack of experience all around," Coach Gendall Reeves declared as the Maroon tossers opened drills last week. The battery candidates have been working out for more than three weeks.

Both Townsend and John Kern, substitute outfielder last season, may take a turn on the mound. Other aspiring hurlers are Lou Vangieri, Al Kirk, Bill Lutz, George Cameron and Jim Billington. Cameron is the only southpaw pitcher.

Len Shephard, football and basketball star, is bidding for a catching job, along with Sam Milliken. Among the outfield candidates are John Kramer, Al Adam, John Hihn and Jim Haslam.

The 15-year-old Connie Mack, grandson of the illustrious Athletics' leader, is another outfielder. He previously attended St. Joseph's High. Connie's father, Roy, is vice president of the A's.

Dick Powell, who substituted at second base last season, is one of the leading infield candidates. Others are Dave Maroney, first base, Tom Hoffman, Ed Strobach, Jim Evans, Bob DiMarco and Len Bohrer.

Reeves, who became coach in 1940, has scheduled several warm-up games before Lower Merion embarks on the Suburban Section One campaign. After the April 2 opener with Friends Central, the Maroon will play host to Northeast High the following day. L. M. will play at Haverford School, April 4.

Radnor Hunt Club Will Sponsor Meet

Main Line horse lovers are displaying keen interest in the Radnor Hunt Races, which will bt held on May 11, and in the Rose Tree Races to be held the following Saturday.

Radnor's races will be held on the club grounds for the first time. Work on the course was begun March 11 under the direction of Morris H. Dixon. New flat, timber and brush courses all have to be constructed.

Feature of the Radnor meeting will be the Foxhall Farm Challenge Cup. The 4 1/2-mile race will be run over timber for qualified hunters. It will be a team event, each club entering two horses.

The Rose Tree committee met March 17 to formulate final plans for that club's meeting. Rose Tree may run races on both May 15 and the following Wednesday, May 18.

Drexel Tech Upsets Bryn Mawr Lassies

Drexel Tech girls' swimming team triumphed over Bryn Mawr College, 33 to 25, Friday afternoon at Penn's Weightman Hall. Drexel won both the relay events to take the decision.

Connie Chester captured the 50-yard freestyle in 31 seconds for one Bryn Mawr victory and Darst Hyatt took the 50-yard backstroke in 40.3 seconds for another.

Bob Walters, LaSalle College, averaged 16 points per game to capture the scoring title, tallying 367 points on 160 field goals and 47 fouls. Dan Wagner topped Haverford College will 183 points in 17 games for a 10.8 average.

BAD DAY FOR DRIVER

Providence, R. I. ... — Arthur Villeneuve, 38, of New Bedford, Mass., parked his 18-ton trailer truck in front of police headquarters and went inside to be reprimanded for a minor traffic violation. Upon his return, he found he had been given a second ticket —this time one for illegal parking that called for a fine.

In Australia failure to vote without good reason is punishable by a fine up to $7.

A tiny band forms the invisible shoulder strap and draped hips and bustle back are style features. Incidentally the necklace, pin and the bracelets are real diamonds too.*
